

DISCLAIMER

Whilst every effort is taken to avoid errors, PROSAFE cannot accept responsibility for the accuracy of any statement, extract or information contained within the pages of this website, nor can any of its contributors who have submitted material for inclusion. PROSAFE may change or update this site and anything described in it without notice. Mention of any other organisation or website does not imply approval or warranty as to their standing or capability. We will endeavour to ensure that information, materials and data on this site are complete, accurate and up-to-date. Information on this website is for guidance only and cannot cover all circumstances.

We do not warrant that this site will be compatible with all hardware and software which you may use. Although we may put in place security measures for your protection, we shall not be liable for damage to, or viruses or other code that may affect, any computer equipment, software, data or other property as a result of your access to or use of this site or your obtaining any material from, or as a result of using, this site. We shall also not be liable for the actions of third parties in breaching any security measures.

We make no representations whatsoever about any other website which you may access through this one or which may link to this site. When you access a non-PROSAFE website, please understand that it is independent from PROSAFE, and that PROSAFE has no control over the content on that website. In addition, a link to PROSAFE does not mean that PROSAFE endorses or accepts any responsibility for the content, or the use, of such website.

The contents of this site are intended for convenience only. Nothing on this site shall constitute advice specific to your circumstances or a recommendation.

PRIVACY POLICY

Cookies

A 'cookie' is a small file that a website transfers to your computer's hard disk, allowing our server to 'remember' specific information about your session. While visiting our website, you may encounter a page that employs cookies to make it easier to use the dynamic features of this page. The cookie and the information about your session will be destroyed automatically shortly after you close your browser; it is not permanently stored on your computer. You can set your browser to disable cookies or prompt you before a cookie is accepted. If you do not want to receive cookies, you will still be able to use our website.

Personally Provided Information

If you choose to provide us with personal information by sending an email, or by filling out a form with your personal information and submitting it through our website, we use that information to respond to your enquiry and to help us provide you with information or material that you request. If provided, personally identifiable information is maintained in a database that is secure within PROSAFE. We do not give, share, sell, or transfer any personal information to a third party, unless required to by law.

Links to Other Sites

We provide links to other internet sites. Once you leave our site and visit another site, you are subject to the terms and privacy policy of the new site.

Terms and conditions of use

Your use of any part of this site constitutes your acceptance of these site terms which takes effect on the date on which you first use the e-learning modules. If you do not agree with these site terms, you should cease using this site immediately. We reserve the right to change these site terms at any time without notice to you by posting changes on-line. You are responsible for regularly reviewing information posted on-line to obtain timely notice of such changes. Your continued use of this site after changes are posted constitutes your acceptance of the amended site terms.

YOUR REGISTRATION OBLIGATIONS FOR EVENTS ON OUR WEBSITE

To be a registered user of the Services, you agree to: (a) provide true, accurate, current and complete information about yourself as prompted by the Site registration form (the "Registration Data"). If you provide any information that is untrue, inaccurate, not current or incomplete, or PROSAFE has reasonable grounds to suspect that such information is untrue, inaccurate, not current or incomplete, PROSAFE has the right to suspend or terminate all of your registrations and refuse any and all of your current or future use of the Services (or any portion thereof). PROSAFE is concerned about the safety and privacy of all its users.

By participating in an online or in-person event/meeting, you acknowledge and agree to not disclose, or share, or misuse, orally or in writing, any confidential or privileged information or documents in relation to this meeting, without the prior written permission of PROSAFE, unless the disclosure of confidential information is required by law.

PRIVACY

PROSAFE may collect, process, and use your personal information for the purposes of our activities (including online and in-person meetings), and to provide services and information you may have requested, in compliance with the EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), and where applicable, other relevant laws.

Personal information we collect for these purposes might include your name and e-mail address.

By registering to attend an online or in-person event/meeting, you acknowledge, agree and grant PROSAFE permission to use, distribute, publish, exhibit, digitise, broadcast, display, reproduce and archive your image, comments, presentations, questions or any other written, audio and visual works during sessions.

For the purposes above, PROSAFE processes your personal information on the basis of legal obligations and the legitimate interests of PROSAFE under Article 6 of GDPR. Personal information are processed solely by PROSAFE's authorised personnel, acting as the data controller.

Collected data are stored in servers, subject to database auditing, with regular security controls and stress testing, and high safeguards. Database encryption is implemented to maximise protection and confidentiality.

Personal information will be deleted as soon as it is no longer necessary in relation to the purposes for which they were collected, under the condition that it is not essential for the fulfilment of the general and specific legal obligations of an activity or contract/grant agreement.

PROSAFE shall not be responsible for protecting any such information and is not liable for the protection of privacy of electronic mail or other information transferred through the Internet or any other network that you may use. PROSAFE does not control and shall not be responsible for the acts of you or any other users of the Services.

YOUR DATA PROTECTION RIGHTS AND CHOICES

Where provided by law, you may request access to the personal information we maintain about you, or request that we correct, amend, delete, block, or move your information, as well as to object or withdraw your consent to PROSAFE to process your personal data, at any time, pursuant to:

Right to information, Article 15 of the GDPR

Right to correction, Article 16 of the GDPR

Right to deletion (“Right to be forgotten”), Article 17 of the GDPR

Right to limit processing, Article 18 of the GDPR

Right to data transmissibility, Article 20 of the GDPR

Right to object, Article 21 of the GDPR.

To exercise your rights, please contact us at info@prosafe.org.

In order to be able to process your request, as well as for identification purposes, please note that we will use your personal information in accordance with Art. 6 para. 1 (c) of the GDPR.

Additionally, please note that your consent can only be withdrawn with future effect and such a withdrawal does not have any influence on the lawfulness of past processing. In some cases, we may be entitled, in spite of your withdrawal, to continue to process your personal information on a different legal basis - for example, in the context of audits or checks by the European Commission or its Agencies.

None of the material from the e-learning training modules can be copied or used for any third party activity without the prior consent of PROSAFE.